Free Access to Legal Information in Switzerland: current situation and trends for the future

The presentation will give a general overview of the institutions concerned by this issue at the federal and cantonal levels and of the systems used to offer such kinds of access. It will also provide information about the E-Government initiatives in this area, about the trends in new projects and will address some critical questions such as how to guarantee the authenticity of online publications or the delimitation between public and commercial services in this area.
